++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy start but sunshine developing for many areas later.

Today:
Generally cloudy this morning, with a chance of occasional drizzle and mist. This afternoon cloud will gradually clear from many areas, although counties to the northwest of London will probably remain cloudy. Highest temperatures across the east. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells for many areas, although probably cloudier across the northwest, before areas of mist, low cloud or patchy fog develop. Staying predominantly dry, but an odd shower may arrive. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:
Generally cloudy and dull start. Through the day very warm sunny spells will develop, but there is also a chance of isolated heavy or thundery showers breaking out. Light winds. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Heavy rain clearing Monday, with a few showers following. Tuesday and Wednesday showers or longer spells of rain, heavy at times, especially Tuesday. Feeling noticeably cooler throughout the period.
